MISSION STATEMENT

After the Civil War ended in 1865, there was the need to continue the reconstruction period, bringing the Confederacy and Union together as the United States under one government. Therefore, the Military was reorganized, creating 60 Military Regiments, which included both Black and White former Confederate and Union Soldiers and freed Slaves. Six of those regiments created were of all Black Cavalry and Infantry Soldiers. We represent their history and legacy with pride and respect.

Whenever possible, we provide that history through spoken words and engaged demonstrations in various venues. We are an organization of genuine camaraderie amongst our motorcyclist and non-motorcyclist membership and not of ponderous cumbersome policies and rules. Love, respect and engaged community service commitment by members are the guide in every field and administrative tasks as our missions of brotherhood and sisterhood.
